TORONTO TIDINGS

There is a noticeable increase seen in the attendance at our Sunday schools in each of the three separate sections these Sabbath mornings and at the same time the various leaders are injecting more interest in their discourses. Our general George Reeves is becoming a regular attendant and his clear way of expression of the signs is much enjoyed.

Platform convenor Roberts is arranging to have that versatile speaker, Mr. John F. Fisher, of London, come and conduct our service here on July 6th, and we hope he will be able to come.

Mr. Colin McLean spoke very earnestly on the greater knowledge that is acquired through our fear of the Lord, at our service on June 1st. It was a sermon very strongly driven home with all its tenderness and sweet savory. Mrs. Harry Mason rendered a hymn in beautiful style.

On May 30th, Mr. and Mrs. William T. Hallett and son, of Niagara Falls, N. Y., with a couple of relatives motored over here and took in the sights of this city, returning home at midnight. Not contented with only a day over here, Mr. and Mrs. Hallett in company with Mr. Paul Tuttle, of Niagara Falls, Ont., motored over again two days later, and attended our morning and afternoon service. In the meantime, your reporter took them out to Birch Cliffe, where they spent a very pleasant time. Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Bell. The visitors were deeply enamored over the beauty and homelikeness of the Bell residence, a one-story bungalow, built in the style of an English Greenwich Village home, surrounded by well-laid and artistically designed gardens and lawn. It is located in Cliffside Park, and overlooking Lake Ontario. The visitors from the Falls also made short calls on other friends and we trust they will come again.

The writer recently heard from our old friend, Mr. Samuel Pugsley, late of this city, but now making his home in Bridgen. Sam. says he is doing splendidly, but misses his Toronto friends. However, with the weekly visit of the JOURNAL, he is able to keep tab of all his friends everywhere.

Miss Evelyn Hazlitt, accompanied by a party of lady friends, took a delightful sail over Lake Ontario to Port Wellar and up through the new Welland Canal on June 4th. The trip this new artificial waterway was most delightful and picturesque. This canal, one of the finest and longest ship passages in the world, cuts through the Niagara Peninsula from Port Maitland on Lake Erie to Port Wellar on Lake Ontario, and is approximately thirty-six miles long, and cost over seventy-two million dollars in its construction.

Mr. Harry Buller, of Ridgetown, was a visitor to this city for a few days lately, and met many of his old school-mates in the meantime.

Mr. Daniel Fleming was a visitor with relatives and friends in this city recently, while on his way home to Craigie, near Collingwood, after his sojourn during the past winter, with relatives and friends in Sunny California.

"Mo-a Glen" has been treated very lavishly to a coat of paint, both inside and outside, and now looks more spick and span.

Our Church Board of Trustees now meets the first Monday in each month or at the call of the Superintendent, instead of on the second Tuesday of each month as formerly. The June meeting was held on the second ult., but not much business was done, as everything is going on smoothly. Our parish house has had its leaky roof repaired at a cost of $109.00. The May receipts were far above the expenditure. As long as Mrs. J. R. Byrne is rendering such valuable aid to our church and the deaf as well in the way of interpreting, and a thousand other ways, she and her family will be given the use of our church residence free of charge. Mrs. Byrne is a hundred fold asset to our church and the deaf in general.

While out at High Park with the picnickers who assembled there on May 24th, our good old friend, Mr. A. W. Mason contracted a severe cold that laid him up for a couple of weeks, and caused all much concern fearing it would turn into pneumonia, but we are now pleased to say that he is coming along fine and hope he continues to gain in health. He is immensely popular.

We understand Mr. and Mrs. Howard J. Lloyd and family, of Brantford, took a spin to this city on Victoria Day to see their relatives and join in the High Park picnic.

Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Bell motored down to Trenton in their classy "Duran," and visited the latter's home folks over the Victoria Day recess. They had a delightful time and buoyant spin.

WATERLOO WEE BITS

Mr. John Forsythe, of Elmira, is, at time of writing, still lingering in St. Mary's Hospital in Kitchener. His wife and daughter, Marie, are frequently motored down to see him by kind neighbors. When Mrs. John A. Moynihan called to see him on May 25th, she found him doing very well and most cheerful. His blood poisoned hand, which has given him excruciating pain, had to be cut open very deeply to let out the poisoned pus, and will likely hear the command "Please get out!" ere long.

Mrs. Newton Black, of Kitchener, recently came over to see Mrs. J. A. Moynihan, but finding her out, made for the Martin home to see Mrs. Martin, who is now recovering from her recent indisposition.

Mr. Gordon Meyers and his father have just purchased a new car, and is now out, frequently cutting a show.

Mrs. Harry Cole, of Niagara Falls, N. Y., has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Golds, Sr., for a fortnight lately, and brought her mother an elegant bed spread of yellow silk interwoven with a wreath of painted flowers.

Your reporter from this locality called to see Mrs. William Hagen in Kitchener the other day, and judging by her appearance no one would ever conclude that Mrs. Hagen was ever a patient at Freeport. Her present condition is so robust that she is out everywhere mingling with the public like any ordinary person.

The spring house-cleaning, which has been an epidemic among our deaf ladies lately, has now taken wings into temporary oblivion, much to our relief.

Mrs. John A. Moynihan went over to Kitchener lately, and gave Mrs. Newton Black a pleasant call, chatting over passing events of the times.

During his enforced stay in St. Mary's Hospital, Mr. John Forsythe, not only made many friends among the nurses, but has successfully taught many of them our mode of conversation, thus our old John whiled away his time in a useful way.

Mrs. Phaffler, sister of Mrs. J. A. Moynihan, with her husband, Dr. G. E. Phaffler, are leaving, shortly from Philadelphia, on their annual trip to Europe.

CHURCHHILL CLIPS

Mr. Harry Sloan, who went to Craigvale to work for a farmer, did not remain there long. A very tempting offer to work on the King's Highway between Bradford and Barrie, with higher wages in the offering, was so tempting that he decided to return home and work on the road. He now finds his new job much to his liking. Here's hoping he'll make the grade.

There was a very good gathering of the deaf at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Averall in Cookstown on May 18th, when Mr. Colin McLean, of Toronto, gave all a very splendid Biblical sermon. It was the first meeting held in this part since last October. Beautiful and appropriate hymns were rendered by Mesdames S. Jones and J. C. Zimmerman, which greatly pleased all.

On May 24th, the crack Churchill baseball team, on which our young Harry Sloan is a sterling player, journeyed over to Midhurst, and took part in the field day sports. In the baseball tournament the Churchill team won the first two games. In the final clash it lost to the Midhurst team by a close score. Up till the ninth inning both teams were struggling along neck to neck at four all, but in the final extra inning Midhurst nosed out its opponent and carried off the highest honors and the silver cup, while the Churchill boys—the runners up—were each decorated with medals. It was a game worthwihle.

BOBCAYGEON BRIEFS

Mrs. Stanley B. Wright enjoyed a very pleasant trip to Ann Harbor, Mich., lately. She motored all the way up in company with her cousins, but returned by train.

Mr. Thomas Hazelton, who is a traveling salesman, was in this vicinity lately, but we did not see him.

If the weather is favorable, the deaf of this locality, will take in the picnic of the Bridgen Literary Society of Toronto, at Lakeside Park in Oshawa, on June 21st, and are looking for a big time.

An old log cabin, of historic reminiscence, has just been dug up on the Court House grounds in Lindsay. This quaint old cabin was once the happy home of Mr. Frederick Reeves, the aged and beloved father of Mr. George W. Reeves, of Toronto, who left this life for the eternal shores on the 21st of last October, in his ninety-second year. In later years this familiar old abode was the property of the Kerr family, one of whom, of the later generation, was, for a number of years, a housekeeper in the Wright family.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Preston, of Peterboro, have been frequently down to this burg, visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley B. Wright. They are a very jovial and well liked couple.

A large number of the deaf, throughout this part of the country foregathered at the spacious and homelike residence of the White family in Bewdley, on May 25th, where they were entertained to two interesting Biblical talks given by Messrs. Charles Elliott, J. R. Byrne and George W. Reeves, of Toronto. It was a very happy and democratic crowd.

Mr. Jack Wright had the company of a chum with him in his camp lately. The visitor is a member of the Toronto Maple Leaf Professional hockey team.

WYOMING WAVES

Mr. and Mrs. Jontie Henderson, of Samia, were down in this locality on May 25th, visiting the Wark family.

Mr. Samuel Pugsley, late of Toronto, but now of Bridgen, accompanied by his nephew, were in Samia, on May 1st, intending to attend the Fisher meeting, but could not find the location of the meeting, much to our regret. The meetings in that city are held at the Chamber of Commerce building, just to the north of the City Hall.

Miss Jean Wark went up to visit with her pal, Miss Edith Squires, in Petrolia, on May 24th, remaining there until the following Monday evening, and reports a good old time.

Mr. William Summers, of Sombra, motored out to Bridgen on May 31st, and gave his old schoolmate, Mr. Sam. Pugsley, a gentle call and sold Sam. a quantity of seed potatoes.

Mr. Samuel Pugsley seem to be enjoying himself immensely since moving to Bridgen from Toronto a short time ago. On a recent date, he and his nephew and niece motored up to Wallaceburg on a business errand and on May 15th, he and Mr. Carl Smith, his nephew, motored down to Wyoming, where they visited the Wark family. The meeting between Sam and Mr. Wark was of more than ordinary interest for they had not seen each other for ages.

GENERAL GLEANINGS

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Charbonneau, of Riverside, are expecting a visit soon from the former's brother, Mr. Louis Charbonneau and nephew, Manager Joseph Charbonneau, D.Ph., D.D., C.V.G. of Montreal. Louis is an Inspector of Separate Schools.

Mrs. Dorothy Matthew, of Gananoque, was one of the many, who are continually sending in their subscriptions to the writer for transmission to the JOURNAL. She and her husband, Gordon Matthew, and their two-year-old child were in Toronto lately, but regret they had not time to call at the church for the deaf there. Mr. Matthew's parents are just now sojourning down in New Mexico. In Gananoque they enjoy the company of Miss Ethel Bishop, a recent graduate of the Belleville school. We hope to see the Matthews next time they visit Toronto.

The Ford Motor plant at Ford, Ont., seems to be laying off many of its employees temporarily and we hear the latest of our friends to go is Mr. Alfred Penprase, of Windsor.

It should be known that the Indian Settlement at Cross Lake, 125 miles northwest of the Pass, Man., which was destroyed by a destructive fire in February last, in which eight Indian pupils and a mother supervisor lost their lives, is under the bishopric supervision of Bishop Charlebois, a first cousin of Mr. Leon Charbonneau, of Riverside, Ont.

Mr. John Taylor, of Singhampton, was lately out fishing and caught three speckled beauties in the famous trout streams of the Nottawaga Hills. He also figured in a recent big bear hunt with a large party of hastily organized farmers to hunt down the prowler that was held at bay by dogs, but old Bruin eventually escaped.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Charbonneau, of Riverside, had quite a bunch of jolly visitors for the Victoria Day recess. Among those who enjoyed their hospitality were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Terrell, of Toronto, with their three children, Mrs. Angus Quick and her son and Mr. Norman Gleadow, of Hamilton. On Saturday evening, May 24th, the whole party, along with Mrs. Charbonneau and daughters, Theresa, went over to Detroit to attend the charity social that evening and all report having had a great time.

Miss Marybelle Russell, who has been on a lengthy stay in Collingwood, has returned to her home in Ailsa Craig again. She still misses her beloved mother. Marybelle is desirous of attending our mission meetings at London and other points close by.

On American Decoration Day, May 30th, Mr. and Mrs. William Riberty, of Detroit, motored down and spent that week-end with friends in St. Thomas, also with Miss Flora McMillan in Dutton and with their brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Sterne Ball in Aylmer, Ont. They had a lovely time all round.

It is true blunders in one way or another occur unintentionally and such were noticeable in the Brantford Bulletins in the issue of May 29th. It should have read that Mr. and Mrs. Wilfrid Teague are now running a poultry ranch at Grand View, a few miles outside the "Telephone City," and it should also have been Mrs. Howard J. Lloyd, who rendered such a beautiful hymn at the Roberts meeting and not her husband, whom many thought had stolen his wife's thunder. We gladly state the correction.

At noon on May 25th, Mr. Jerome A. Berthiaume, of Sandwich, casually dropped into the home of his sister, Mrs. Leon Charbonneau in Riverside, and no sooner was he inside than he dozed in wonderment to find his sister's many friends from Toronto and Hamilton there. This meeting between these old schoolmates can be better imagined than described.

The Charboneaus have a young son, named Jerome, who was born on the 7th of last November. They have four children, but one, born on September 7th, 1920, has since passed away. While another girl, born on November 14th, 1914, was accidentally run over and killed by a heavy truck on April 30th, 1921. Their other child, Theresa, is now a big girl and proficient in the English, French, and our own sign manual.

SEATTLE

The Fourth of July picnic will be held at Roosevelt Park. Car No. 16, the Ravenna car, passes close to the park. All who come by street car should get off at 20th Avenue, N. E., and they will find themselves directly at the park entrance. Special permission by letter to use the park has been received from the Park Board. Plans for games and eats are under way, and it is hoped that there will be a good crowd.

Mrs. Victoria Smith and her sister, Miss Clara Allen, invited Gallaudet Guild to hold its May Social at their home on North 79th Street, and on May 24th, a crowd of thirty-four assembled there. There were too many for Mrs. Gustin and a neighbor, Mrs. Biggs, assisted in serving. Ed Martin won the only prize of the evening given for games.

At a card party, a number of old-fashioned games were played, one a game of forfeits. The judges were very fertile in devising ridiculous situations for those who had to redeem their belongings. The refreshments were served on round individual trays, and were fine, as Miss Allen is a notable cook. Everyone enjoyed her Hungarian goulash.

The next two or three guild socials will be out-of-door picnics.

Miss Mary Main was a very welcome guest at the guild party. She is now visiting some friends, and if she can get a job will remain in Seattle. There are no other deaf people of her age in Olympia, her hometown.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex. Oliver were married four years on May 20th, and on the 25th they went for a celebration at the big new amusement park just opened at Bitter Lake. That is the right place for experiencing thrills, and has been well patronized by crowds since the opening day. There is plenty of parking space.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Martin will spend a couple of months, including part of June, at Yakima on the ranch of Lina's parents. Lina has been working for the past three years, helping towards the home, but will quit for good and be a regular housekeeper only after her return from Yakima. It will be a great time for their little son, on the ranch, as he is now getting old enough to enjoy country delights.

This spring the two small sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Fredericksen are wearing white sailor suits, and their parents are receiving many compliments on their smart appearance.

Melba Burke is making a trip home to Spokane over this week-end, to see her parents and son. She is taking advantage of the Decoration Day excursion rates.

Mrs. Graham was hostess at a bridge table last Tuesday evening, in her suite at the Homer apartments. Miss Sink, Mrs. Hanson and Mr. Howard, were the guests.

On Decoration Day, we drove to Index, and saw some very lovely scenery. The blue mountain streams splashed and foamed down rocky beds, and the trees and grass were a vivid green. We had with us Doris Nation and J. C. Howard, and en route through Monroe we stopped at the post office and picked up Lloyd Henry.

He was waiting for us, and had with him two big boxes. Arrived at Index at 2 o'clock, and spread out our lunch on a table in the local hotel dining-room. Lloyd's unexpected contribution consisted of a roast chicken, stuffed eggs, a jar of salad and a really huge cake. With our own lunch added, we had a feast fit for a king, and as we were all famished we did it all justice. It was somewhat damp up at Index. So we did not feel much like hiking and after an hour's stop started back home. We went out to the Monroe ranch to take Lloyd home, and stopped for a short visit. The ranch of fifty-seven acres is in a beautiful valley, and we met Lloyd's mother and grandmother. The latter is seventy-eight years old, but has no gray hair yet, and is vigorous and active. We saw and admired the well-kept chickens, looked over as much of the farm as we could see from the yard and house, and fell in love with Lloyd's young St. Bernard dog, Rex. We reached home in the early evening.

On the way to Index, we stopped for a half-hour at the Blue Moon Fur Farm, which is run by a man Mr. Howard formerly knew at Duluth. We saw silver foxes, fitches, mink, martens, a fisher, and a large number of beautiful and valuable angora rabbits.

Miss Genevieve Sink went down to Vancouver, Wash., in her Chevrolet, and took in the Decoration Day program at the State school. She brought Miss Julia Cante home with her for the week-end. On the way the ladies had engine trouble, and had to stop at Castle Rock for repairs. They were hours late getting here, and had to travel nearly all night. They saw the dawn come in at 3 A.M. After resting they went to Woodland Park, and to Snoqualmie Falls, and Point Defiance, Tacoma, sight-seeing. Today Miss Sink is taking Miss Cante as far as Olympia, where she will take the bus back to Vancouver, to resume her teaching punctually tomorrow morning.

On May 16th, Alice Hanson went to Pittsburgh, and was there nearly a week, which was full of entertainment. A tea was given for her and her bridegroom, at the house where the latter lives, and it was largely attended by professors and their wives and friends of the College of Economics. Alice's various uncles, aunts and cousins, six separate families, then entertained them in rotation and all together. They were quite royally entertained, and Homer Jones was heartily welcomed into the clan.

A letter from Bertha Rolph says that she and her husband are comfortably established for the summer at Zacker Bay, Alaska, at a fish cannery where sixty men are employed. Mr. Rolph is the cook. Bertha says that the scenery is beautiful, with tall snow-capped mountains, and the air is fine. But it seems very quiet to Bertha after her long residence in a city.

THE HANSONS.

June 1, 1930.

The Capital City

Although the summer has but scarcely begun, the Washington Division, No. 46, has already opened their date books to inscribe important events which will take place in the early autumn.

October 11th, Saturday, Ladies' Night Social, Mr. Albert Rose, chairman.

November 25th, Saturday night, annual supper, chairman to be announced in the near future.

Among the most interesting parties during the month of May were:—

Mr. Thomas Wood and his charming wife entertained a surprise birthday party, in honor of Mr. Louis Schulte, Saturday night, May 24th, at their beautiful new home at 2123 Quincy Street, in Woodridge, D. C., and also on Sunday night, May 25th, they gave a farewell reception for Mr. David Peikoff.

Mr. Schulte was remembered on the fiftieth anniversary of his natal day, being showered with useful presents as a token of esteem by a host of friends in Washington and nearby. And Mr. Peikoff, who was tendered the farewell reception, has departed for his home in Canada, after his studies at Gallaudet College. He was remembered with a handsome traveling shaving set, given by the student body, and a handsome bill-fold, given by his Washington friends.

Mrs. H. Lorraine Tracy charmingly entertained at a birthday party for her husband, Rev. Mr. Tracy, at her cosy apartment on Friday night, May 30th, though his birthday falls on June 4th. Thirty invited guests attended and each wished the pastor many happy returns of the day. He was remembered with flowers and useful gifts. A birthday cake baked by the hostess was served with punch. The cake contained three things—a ring, a dime and a thimble. The former went to Mrs. William Lowell, Mr. Roy, J. Stewart received the dime, while the latter went to Mrs. Annie Moylan, of N. C. Lotto was played, Mr. Stewart won first, Mr. Brookmire, second, and Mr. R. Smoak third. As there was only one prize, the three men drew for it, and Mr. Brookmire picked the larger number and was awarded the prize—clothes brush.

Mrs. Annie Moylan, of Wilmington, N. C., who has been visiting in the Capital City, for several months, has just left for her home in North Carolina. Before leaving she sent in her subscription to the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL, saying she cannot feel happy without it.

Come along everyone and follow in her line. Mrs. C. C. COLBY.

Portland, Oregon

Mr. Wm. LaMotte, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Wright, Mrs. W. S. Root, her son Milo, and little Jean, grandson of the Wrights, all of Seattle, were week-end visitors in Portland, May 24th and 26th. The men took in the Frat smoker on Saturday night, while Mrs. Root took in a swap party, at the home of Mrs. Kautz, for the benefit of the O. A. D. Convention Fund. Mrs. Root was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Reichle, while Mr. and Mrs. Wright, little Jean and Milo Root, stayed with the Nelsons. This was Milo's first visit in Portland. Other visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Emerick, of Aberdeen, Mrs. Emerick's brother, Mr. McClain, who is staying with the Emericks at Aberdeen, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Bertram of Seattle, were visitors, May 30th to June 1st, in Portland. They called on several deaf friends, but were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Courtland Greenwald. Mrs. Bertram accompanied the Nelsons to a bridge party, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Thierman, for the benefit of the O. A. D. Convention. The Bertrams made the trip in their swell new Studebaker coupe. They are well known in Portland, as they formerly lived here, some seven or eight years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward's home was gladdened on Friday morning May 30th (Decoration Day), by the arrival of a pair of twins, a boy and girl, weighing about five pounds each. Mr. Ward is employed at the Ford factory. Congratulations to the happy father and mother.

An O. A. D. party for the benefit of the convention was given Wednesday night, June 4th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Reichle.

Raymond, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Reichle, was one of the musicians in the Jefferson High School band, which played at the national high school contest in Flint, Mich., recently. It attracted much attention in the Eastern city, according to the National School Band Association, in the East, and the National Bureau for Advancement of Music. Portland was regarded as a city showing the growing interest in music. Raymond Reichle really enjoyed his first long journey.

Mr. John Wonnack, a recent new addition to the Portland deaf population, is looking for a small tract of land somewhere outside of Vancouver, Wash. Mr. Wonnack will raise rabbits, bees, and poultry. He now has a fine lot of rabbits at his home in Portland, and will look for a more suitable place to raise them. He is at present working in Vancouver, Wash. Both John and his brother, Fred, are interested in rabbit raising. Both are popular young men among the deaf in Portland and Vancouver, and both are Frats.

The Portland baseball team went over to play the Vancouver Deaf School boys on Decoration Day, May 30th. The game was a hot contest, as the score came out 8 to 9, in favor of the Portland team, captained by Frank Thayer.

Mr. W. S. Root has given quito a new and sweller name. "Barnyard golf" is Mr. Root's new name for the horseshoe game. Look out, Portlanders, as Mr. Root is working for the championship at the Longview picnic, July 26th and 27th. H. P. N.

Deaf Mute Indian 120 Years Old

JAMES SUVIATE, deaf-mute Indian from Mexico, holds the undisputed old-age honors in Los Angeles.

"Age?" asked a census enumerator yesterday.

"Oh, about 120, perhaps older," Mrs. F. M. Watts answered for Suviate. "He doesn't know how old he really is, but he remembers things that happened 100 years ago."

Mrs. Watts said the Indian began working for her family fifty years ago, and as a boy, many years before, was held prisoner by Apache Indians.

"He's true to God who's true to man;
Whenever wrong is done
To the humblest and the weakest
'Neath the all-beholding sun,
That wrong is also done to us,
And they are slaves most base,
Whose love of right is for themselves,
And not for all the race."

Specimen copies sent to any address on receipt of five cents.

It is very difficult to decide about printing some of the "electioneering" articles that have been sent to the JOURNAL editor, proposing nominations for new officers of the National Association of the Deaf, which holds elections during the convention at Buffalo. If all that is written on the election topic were given place, much news would be crowded out. The letters received up to date would occupy several columns, and would only be repeating individual preference and opinion. Some of the names advanced for the office of president are of persons who have no ambition to represent officialdom, and others are incompetent to the point of absurdity.

The National Association of the Deaf deserves the best officers to guide it along the thorny way that eventually will result in the rental or purchase of a headquarters and afford a salary to the person that heads it. Up to the present year and during the incumbency of President Roberts, progress has been made and the rights of the deaf as citizens has been respected. Let all members realize that the good of the Association, rather than the ambition of the individual, is the object aimed at when officers are elected. There will be plenty of time at Buffalo, and every one will profit from an interchange of opinion, so that nominations can be wisely and properly considered before they are made.

THE Illinois Advance, published at the State School at Jacksonville, in its June number, which comprises sixty-four quarto pages, with cover, gives quite an outline of the year just closed, with a history of the graduation class. This latter feature is enhanced by pictures of the members of the class taken in the period of their babyhood and their appearance at the present day, when full of hopeful confidence they begin life's battle in the world.

The literary work of the educational department has been good, as has all other features of the large Institution for the Deaf at Jacksonville.

The athletic feature has received skilled attention and produced excellent results, for which Robey Burns is to be congratulated.

The volume is profusely illustrated with portraits of the buildings, the Class of '30, groups of societies, and an athletic story of pictured events. Our Fanwood friend of days gone by, Fred Fancher, is still giving the deaf the benefit of the rhythmic effects of band music and his deaf musicians make a gallant show.

Those of the JOURNAL readers who treasure the memory of that good and true friend of all the deaf, the late Rev. James H. Cloud, will be gratified at the success of his son, D. T. Cloud, as Managing Officer of the Illinois Institution.

If you want all the summer happenings among the deaf, read the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL. It is issued every week, all the year round.

OHIO

News items for this column can be sent to B. M. Edgar, 56 Latta Avenue, Columbus, Ohio.

The five hundred students at the school, with some of the officers and all the teachers, had their annual outing at Olentangy Park, June 4th. The day was a good hot one, but that kept no one from having a good time. All the amusements were patronized by the students and the swimming pool was very much in evidence all the afternoon and there were many cases of sunburn.

The usual picnic lunch was served and all were treated to ice-cream. As nearly every child had one dollar to spend, the park management must have taken in quite a sum.

Mr. A. B. Greener ventured out in the heat, so as not to miss the picnic. He hasn't missed one for years. It gives him a good chance to greet his friends at the school.

Mrs. Robert P. Thomas, at her home at 993 Franklin Avenue, was hostess to those Gallaudet folks known as Owls recently. As two of these O. W. L. S. are soon to feast their eyes on Europe, this gathering was a sort of good-bye party to them as boats figured in the doings.

While in the midst of their hooting, the city lights went out and the house was in total darkness, much to the delight of the Owls, as it gave them a chance to do some hooting and also test their eyesight. Just what each was doing when the lights came on, I have not heard, but all declared they had a fine meeting and a grand time.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Holdren called together at their home, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. C. Jacobson, Mr. and Mrs. LaFountain and Miss Katherine Toskey, to enjoy a steak and weiner roast out in the open. It took two hours to do justice to the "eats" and then all sat around the embers talking till darkness drove them into the house.

In the April and May numbers of the Atlantic Monthly there have been articles by Miss Katherine Frick, of Pennsylvania. In good language she has told very interestingly of her life and her education. Somehow her articles are more enjoyable than most written by the deaf-blind. She makes no effort to use big words nor studied stiff sentences. It all has come from her own thoughts.

Mrs. J. W. Jones made her annual visit to Greelawn Cemetery May 30th, to remember with lovely roses the deaf buried there on the school lot.

Miss Mary Frost, one of our high school teachers, had the good luck of being treated to a trip abroad by an uncle and aunt of much means. They sailed with her from New York, June 10th, on the fast steamer Bremen. While they are resting in England, Miss Frost will visit many countries in Europe and all three return together.

Miss Caroline Feasley, who has been connected with our school for many years, has been beautifying her yard with several kinds of evergreen. Her home is not far from the school on Franklin Avenue.

Miss Bessie MacGregor was in Cincinnati over Memorial Day, saying "good-bye" to friends there before departing with the Zell family for Europe.

Just a few days after the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Israel Crozen died, a baby son arrived to help brighten their saddened home. Both mother and son are doing nicely.

On May 30th, while busy working among my flowers, I was surprised, when I looked up and saw Mrs. William Sawhill, of Pittsburgh, smiling at me. She was with Mr. Sawhill. Harold and Mr. Irwin were on a week-end motor trip. Their first stopping place was at Zanesville to see Mrs. Ruth. After seeing Mr. A. B. Greener, they started northward to call on other friends and expected to reach Pittsburgh by Sunday night. Relatives in northern Ohio were to be visited, too.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Cory, Jr., of St. Petersburg, Fla., have had their home remodeled and put into first-class shape before leaving to spend part of the summer in New York and Michigan. During their absence, Mr. and Mrs. C. Wortman, who live near, will keep their eyes on the Cory home to see that nothing happens to mar its beauty.

Mr. Leslie Oren, the deaf-blind graduate, was back at the school visiting. He recently had a short ride in an airplane with his father and describes it as "feeling like a ship upon the ocean and smoother than an automobile."

Mr. Earl Mather, of Indiana, was a guest of friends over Sunday in Columbus. He called at the school, too.

Rev. F. C. Smielau had a large class to present to the bishop in Cincinnati, when he paid his usual visit there, as thirty-three were in the class. Rev. Smielau said this was the largest class he had been privileged to present in all his thirty years as a missionary. Among them were several quite prominent deaf people, Mr. Louis J. Bacheberle being perhaps the best known of all, and the missionary feels that his mission work in Cincinnati has been greatly strengthened.

The Ohio School, through the proceeds of its candy fund, has purchased a large bus for the school's use. It has a seating capacity of 42 and it will be a great aid for outings, athletic contests and so on. It arrives July 1st, and the students will see it next fall.

The Ohio friends of Dr. and Mrs. J. Schuyler Long were sorry to hear of his recent illness and hope he will soon be himself again.

At a surprise shower at the home of Miss Sarah Bowser, in Dayton, for Miss Catherine Derby, the latter's approaching marriage to Bernard Rider was announced.

In the California News, we read that Mrs. Ruth Knox Birek is much appreciated in the California school as dean of the girls. This is pleasing to her friends at the Ohio school, who knew her as a girl here and knew she had the making of a fine woman. The girls' supervisor in any school should be one of fine character, one whom the students would respect and honor. Such is Ruth Knox, graduate of our school.

GALLAUDET COLLEGE

The most spectacular event in the history of Gallaudet for the last thirty years took place on Sunday afternoon, May the twenty-sixth, when the Gallaudet alumni of Washington, D. C., held a reception in honor of Miss Elizabeth Peet, Dean of the college women and Professor of French, to commemorate her thirtieth year as a member of the Gallaudet Faculty.

The reception, which was held from three to five o'clock in the afternoon, was attended by more than a hundred and fifty people, all of whom came to show their love and respect for Miss Peet. Miss Peet, dressed in a dress of black lace, wearing a corsage given her by three "sons," Mr. Powrie Doctor, Instructor in English and History; Mr. Walter Krug, instructor in Latin, and Mr. David Peikoff, '29, received the guests with all her usual dignity and graciousness. There were numerous flowers bestowed upon Miss Peet in token of love and friendship. These were at once placed in vases in Miss Peet's living room, and for more than a week afterward presented a lovely appearance to anyone who chanced to pass.

There was no dull moment throughout the beautiful afternoon. When some of the guests departed, others took their places, and there was always a group of interested individuals around our Dean, who entertained them as only she knows how to do. Refreshments were served at a small table at one end of the terrace.

Miss Peet was deeply touched by this expression of love and friendship on the part of the alumni of the district. Her appreciation of their efforts knew no bounds, and she found the greatest enjoyment in the many lovely flowers she received. It was many days ere she ceased to comment on the event, and the joy it gave her she will long remember.

The third term examinations have come to a close, and President Hall has announced the names of those who have passed in their examinations. The members of the Senior Class will all receive their degrees on Tuesday, June the eleventh, at the Commencement exercises from four to six in the afternoon. There were the usual number of failures, but we are glad to say that a larger number of Preparatory students will return next year than is usually the case. This, however, is partly the result of the fact that very few students in the state schools have volunteered for the entrance examinations.

Since examinations have ended, the last social activities of the year have taken up all the students' interest. There have been socials or informal dances every night since the last day of examinations and the Prom is to come off on the night of the tenth.

Already the students are leaving for home, and the halls of Fowler Hall and College Hall are beginning to take on the desolate, deserted appearance they always have during the summer. Vacation is nearly here, and there is excitement in the air. Next fall will see us back, at our studies, and there will be new friends to make. May we have a successful year!

Farewell, dear readers, until next fall—may you have a pleasant vacation.

CHICAGO

Mrs. Hasenstab accompanied the Haskell family to their summer cottage at Lake Delaware, Wis., on Decoration Day, expecting to stay through June.

The Methodist Brotherhood had its first dinner at the Headquarters on Wednesday, May 28th. Later the pastor spoke on the Holy Spirit as a necessity to Christian Life, and the Rev. Henry S. Rutherford addressed on the place prayer occupied in Christian life. C. E. Sharpnack and B. F. Ryan, dressed as an aged couple, gave a dialogue on loyalty to their country, and then on some reminiscences of their youth.

Messrs. C. E. Sharpnack, Guy Favorite and W. A. Zollinger, made some alteration to the front of the sanctuary by adding a two-step stairway, and putting railing on the lower platform.

Mrs. Whitson arranges another rummage sale in Evanston, for the Methodist Endowment fund, to be held on June 6th and 7th.

Mrs. Gus Hyman made an auto trip by the courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. J. Purdum, Monday to Friday, visiting friends in Decatur, Jacksonville, and Peoria, spending three days in Jacksonville, and taking in the commencement exercises at the school, which closed Wednesday. Pupils sent out Thursday, Chicago pupils arrived at 4 P.M. Burns, Johnson, Miss McDonald and a hearing lady had charge.

Mr. and Mrs. John George Otto and family, of Springfield, Ill., spent a few days of last week in Chicago. They called on their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Tillman, of Highland Park, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lowe, of Chicago. Mrs. Tillman and Mrs. Lowe were former Springfield girls.

Addison Reynold, who returned from a six weeks' trip to Florida last month, gives a description of his town.

Mr. Reynold left here March 15th, in company with his sister, stopping at Melbourne, Fla., for a long stay with his nephew.

The nephew took Mr. Reynold and his niece, of Jamestown, Va., for a spin to Jacksonville, Fla., about 200 miles distant from the city. They left at 3 A.M., and reached that city at 8 P.M., on the same day. His automobile was rolling over a smooth road among the beautiful scenery, with green trees, and vines burdened with grapes.

After a two-day visit at Jacksonville, they took a spin to Tampa, and gave one day to the tour and sights of the city and parks. Then they departed to make next stops at St. Petersburg for two days, Orlando for one day and Dayton Beach for two days.

The visitors continued their delightful jaunt to West Key, a beautiful city of 14,000 people, situated on the last island of the chain which stretches out 115 miles from the shores of Florida. The splendid overseas highway for motor travel, which has been under construction for years, was opened January 25, 1928. The last water gaps, thirty-six miles long, between Matcumbe and no name key is now spanned by ferry.

The island is a delightful spot containing many beautiful homes. Green grass, early spring flowers, bright and balmy weather, and the sight of white capped blue breakers on the sea are enjoyed by wealthy people.

The billows dashing high against the railway and motor overseas highway gave the visitors a beautiful view of water on both sides as they traveled along.

After spending one day at Key West, the visitors sped on and stopped at Ocala, Fla., on their return. They devoted four hours to cruising on Silver Spring in a glass-bottom boat.

Many alligators sunning themselves on the shores of the river were in sight.

Miss Mae Strandberg, (who used to be a Minneapolis minnow before she got religion and came to a civilized community) received a clipping from a Minneapolis paper saying one of its deaf citizens, E. Sampson, committed suicide by turning on the gas.

Miss Myrtle Nelson bought some trifles at a hearing church bazaar in Evanston—home town of Dawes and Gibson—one being a flag-pin bearing a strange red-rimmed emblem which looked like the frat's until examined under a magnifying glass, and having the letters N F D S in the corners, like this:—

N F
O S
D S

Aside from the back of the pin having the lettering "David Anderson"—evidently the maker's name—without any city, there was no further clue as to what, why, when, or where. Can any of our readers enlighten us?

Two old vacation cronies and their wives dropped in on the Craig wedding anniversary. Both of them are teachers in the Wisconsin school at Delavan. You probably have never heard of either of them. Seems to me one was named Cross—no, it must have been Happy—no, now I get it, Pleasant. Yes, Frank B. Pleasant, who used to be Gibson's clerk way-back when. The other holds some small office in a tiny million-dollar concern styled the National Fraternal Society of the Deaf. I believe his name is spelled Neesam, and he seems to be president. Of course you never heard of them.

Pat. O'Brien was struck by a sedan owned and driven by Alfred Melchert Monday, June 2d, at 7:30 A.M., while alighting from a street car. He was picked up by a patrolman his head bleeding badly. An ambulance took him to a hospital, where he took a rest from his work for one week.

Mr. and Mrs. George Brashar returned last week from a three-day trip to Springfield, Ill., where they visited her relatives and decorated the grave of her first deceased husband. While they were away his deaf mother stayed at Miss Cora Jacobs' home.

Arthur Hollis, whose illness was mentioned in the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL on June 5th, died last week. A private funeral was held and attended by his relatives only. The deceased was born in Canada, and educated at a deaf school there.

Pat. O'Brien's nephews, Joseph Ryan and Justice O'Brien, who have taught at Notre Dame University at South Bend, Ind., and at Harvard University at Cambridge, Mass., respectively, returned home for the summer vacation. Justice will sail to Spain and Italy soon, to study foreign languages for two months.

The Chicago Division, No. 106, has selected Riverside Park Grove for its fourth annual picnic and field day, which will take place Sunday, June 29th. Admission, fifty cents for adults; twenty-five cents for children under twelve years of age; and twenty-five cents for parking.

A "500" and bunco and party in aid of the benefit of the Home for Aged Deaf will be held at the Pas-Pas Hall Friday, June 20th, under the direction of the Ladies' Auxiliary of Illinois Association of the Deaf. Fifty-cents, including wardrobe.

A large number of the deaf enjoyed a "500" and bunco party held by the Pas-Pas Club at its club hall Sunday, 8th, at 8 P.M.

W. L. Chinnock, of Lincoln, Neb., was a visitor at the M. E. Mission Sunday, June 1st. He came on a low rate excursion for three days.

There were about 225 persons in attendance at a shirt-waist party held by the Frats, No. 1, Saturday, June 7th, at 8 P.M. The guests indulged in merriment and fun.

Rabbi Abram Simon, of the Washington Hebrew Congregation, in his address, urged the students to keep an attitude of true optimism throughout life. Dr. Hall interpreted the address in sign-language.

The Rev. Arthur D. Bryant, minister of the deaf, Calvary Baptist Church, closed the exercises with benediction, and Dr. Hall interpreted.

Following the ceremonies Dr. Hall held a reception at his residence.

The reception committee consisted of Messrs. Einer Rosenkjar Delmar Cosgrove, Kaple Greenberg, Chester Clark Dobson, Konrad Hokanson, Max Friedman, Alfred Marshall, Frank Galluzzo, Olaf Talsness, Paul Zeiske.

The Rev. Franklin C. Smielau, of Ohio, was called by Dr. Hall on alumni business, and he sat on the platform with the Faculty. He returned to Ohio after the exercises. He looked fine.

The Baccalaureate sermon was delivered at Gallaudet College chapel Sunday, June 8th, at 5 o'clock by the Rev. Moses Lowell, of the First Congregational Church.

The last monthly meeting of the deaf mission of Calvary Baptist Church was held at the beautiful home of Rev. and Mrs. A. D. Bryant on Monday night of June 9th. Mrs. Bryant, without the knowledge of the Reverend, secretly invited about fifty deaf friends to join the members, making about eighty, to surprise Mr. Bryant. Rev. Mr. Bryant was delightedly pleased. Mr. "Jerry" Ferguson, the mighty Irish joker, took the floor and declared that the intention of the evening was for the Reverend's birthday, he spoke of some laughable but appreciable reminiscences of Rev. Mr. Bryant's life in Washington. Mr. Ferguson was followed by Messrs. Roy J. Stewart, John O'Rourke and Mrs. Colby.

Punch and cakes were served by Mrs. Bryant and daughter, Beatrice, assisted by some charming ladies of the church.

Prof. Harley Drake, of Gallaudet College, left Thursday morning, June 12th, for Piqua, O., to be gone for a month.

Mrs. Hofstater, of Alabama, mother of Howard T. Hofstater, was in town for a week, staying with Rev. and Mrs. H. Lorraine Tracy. She and her son left for home Friday. She attended and enjoyed the last business meeting of the Guild of St. Barnabas' Mission, Tuesday evening, June 10th.

Miss Lillian Buster and her mother are spending a week in this city. They have toured through many points of interest in the East. They are from Kansas City, Mo. They came to see Miss Katherine Buster, who graduated with class 1930 from Gallaudet College.

The boat excursion and picnic given by the Division, No. 46, Saturday, June 7th to Marshall Hall, under the charge of Mr. R. J. Stewart were stranded on the Potomac River for thirteen hours, when the steamer Charles Macalester broke down five hundred yards off shore from Mt. Vernon. The "Charly Mac," as the veteran river boat is popularly known, left the Seventh Street, wharf at 10 o'clock on its regular excursion trip to Marshall Hall with more than sixty passengers, about forty of them were deaf.

A rocker arm on the boat broke just as it was being headed in toward Mt. Vernon. The passengers bound for that destination were put ashore in small boats, while a repair crew was sent back to Washington in a motor boat for parts.

The parts were secured, but workmen were unable to remove the rusted bolts and the broken machinery could not be replaced.

At 6 o'clock Capt. E. S. Turner put in a call for assistance, and the District fire boat was sent down the river to tow the steamer in. It arrived back at the wharf at 10:45 at night.

A crowd of about fifty persons had gathered at the wharf to meet the steamer and its arrival was greeted with loud cheers. Included in the crowd, however, were several anxious parents whose children were on the boat. A majority of the passengers on the boat seemed to have enjoyed the mishap.

Capt. Turner ordered food from the boat's galley and lemonade served to those among the passengers who had expected to get their meal at the resort.

Mr. John O'Rourke, of Boston, Mass., attended Gallaudet College exercises and the birthday party of the Bryants.

Cadet James Bowen is home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Duvall. He came last week from Oklahoma Military Academy and has just secured a good position in this city.

MRS. C. C. COLBY.

BOSTON

We had with us, Mr. Jack M. Ebin, of New York City, over Memorial Day.

As guests of Mrs. M. Lawrence Clark, we drove along the beautiful route to the Old Home in Danvers, passing farm yards, and woody knolls. Mr. Ebin was very much impressed with the beauty of "Riverbank"—which is ten acres. Also present were Mrs. Florence Kornblum and Miss Louise McGinnis, as well as the hearing husband of Mrs. Clark.

Each room for the inmates are airy, large and comfortably furnished, overlooking the river. In front are beautiful trees, bushes, and shrubs, all surrounding and adding to the beauty of the Home. They raise their own flowers, witness as in every room was a gay bunch of flowers, and their own vegetables. There are now 400 chickens at the Home, and cows and pigs—all housed in a barnyard down the slope of the Home grounds.

We were warmly greeted by Mrs. Viola Hull, President of the Ladies Auxiliary, just home from a sojourn in Sunny California, and who incidentally is the most active worker for the interests of the Home. We took moving pictures, the writer hereby applying for patents, all rights reserved, to take the place of Clara Bow, immediately upon that lady's retirement.

There were many inmates who were pleased to see "Kitty Kat" again—among them—Miss Alice Jennings, her roommate whose name has slipped our mind, Mrs. Rudolph, Mr. and Mrs. Alcott, Mr. and Mrs. Probst, and others. We were pleased to see Mrs. Chase looking the picture of health, and hope it continues thusly.

A fine supper was served under the direction of the Men's Aid and then all trooped to Lowell Hall, where we were all treated to movies, kindness of Mrs. Hull. She depicts her travels from the moment she leaves home to her arrival back at Bean Town.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Miller, Sunday, June 1st, a social evening was enjoyed, with six couples present, among them Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. J. Casteline, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Bachner and Mr. Harry Rosenstein, with the little Mrs. coming in later.

We have with us also Dr. A. Felix Nash, who is attending a conference of social workers in cultured Boston. Dr. Nash will be remembered as Rabbi of the New York H. A. D.

During his stay here, "Kitty Kat" and her folks had the pleasure of Dr. Nash's and that of Mrs. Betsy M. Levy's company at dinner, and then took in the "All Quiet on the Western Front" film.

We are using all our persuasive powers to compel Dr. Nash to stay for the H. A. D. festivities on the 14th and 15th.

At a meeting of the Auxiliary Frats on the 7th, Mr. Lovejoy had charge of a strawberry festival, which went off very well indeed.

Chairman Cryan gave a talk on the July 4th picnic, at Danvers, and hoped that all would see it possible to attend.

My friend, Petie, (Mr. Peter E. Donahue) writes me with his usual doses of blarney, that he expects to see his beloved colleen at the H. A. D. festivities, and that his

ST. ANN'S CHURCH

The Right Reverend Frank DuMoulin, former Bishop Coadjutor of Ohio, was the visiting Bishop at St. Ann's Church for Deaf-Mutes on Sunday afternoon, June 1st. Eleven persons were presented to him for Confirmation. The other clergy present were Rev. Frederick Burgess, Rector of the Church of St. Matthew and St. Timothy, Rev. Guilbert C. Braddock, vicar of St. Ann's, and Rev. Frank R. Jones, Rector of St. Mary's Church, Mott Haven.

The Confirmation candidates were: Virginia Baumeister, Bertha Marshall, William Abbott, Charles Ellison, and Charles Klenert (of the Church school); Mrs. Bradford (of St. Mary's church); Misses Marie Lotz, Jessie Charleston, and Messrs. Frank Lux, Charles W. Fetscher, and Emil Mayer. The Bishop's inspiring sermon, which was interpreted by Mr. Isaac B. Gardner, was attentively received by a congregation of over 150 people, deaf and hearing.

Tuesday, June 3d, being the anniversary of the birth of the late Rev. Thomas Gallaudet, D.D., the day was celebrated in his memory in the auditorium of St. Ann's Church. An audience of some sixty people, young and old, listened to addresses on Dr. Gallaudet's life and work. Mr. Anthony Reiff introduced the speakers, and headed the Committee which arranged for the memorial celebration.

Rev. Mr. Braddock opened the program with prayer, and spoke a few words on Dr. Gallaudet's churchly connections. Mr. E. A. Hodgson gave an account of Dr. Gallaudet's character and methods in dealing with the deaf. Dr. Thomas F. Fox spoke of Dr. Gallaudet's connection with the New York Institution for the Deaf and of his instrumentality in founding the Malone and Rochester Schools.

Miss Elizabeth Gallaudet touched on the subject of Dr. Gallaudet as family man and as head of the Gallaudet household. Messrs. William W. Thomas, Emanuel Souweine, and Alexander Goldfogel, added their personal reminiscences of the great man who was the friend of all deaf-mutes. At Miss Gallaudet's request, a count was made of persons present who had known Dr. Gallaudet personally, and about half the men and women arose in answer to the census. As Dr. Gallaudet died in 1902, this was a surprisingly large percentage of the gathering.

After the program, refreshments of ice-cream, strawberries, and cake were served by the Committee. It was an interesting and instructive evening and the affair deserved a larger attendance. It is hoped to repeat the occasion next year, so that others of the younger generation will have another opportunity to learn the history of the founder of church missions to the deaf.

On Friday, the 13th, the Fanwood School held its 112th Commencement. For several years past they used to hold these out-of-doors. On several occasions, it rained and everything was spoiled, and they had to go in the chapel. Last year and again this year the exercises were held in the chapel, and on both occasion the weather was fine.

Well, the graduation exercises of 1930, have been held and a full account given in the fine illustrated number last week.

It was an admirable program, and carried out in a very creditable manner, thus adding to the prestige of the Fanwood School.

The Institution for the Improved Instruction of Deaf-Mutes also held exercises on Friday, the thirteenth, but in the morning. Only those connected with the school and the pupils were there.

The New York Times of the 14th had this to say about it:—

Seven pupils and nine women who had trained as teachers were graduated yesterday morning at the Institution for the Improved Instruction of Deaf-Mutes, 904 Lexington Avenue, one of the Federation for the Support of Jewish Philanthropic Societies. The students had completed a twelve-year course in oral instruction.

The diplomas were presented by Sol E. Rains, president of the institution, who also distributed fifty-eight prizes to students. Felix H. Levy, former president of the institution, paid a warm tribute to those who devote their lives to teaching the deaf.

Mrs. Lena Wolk has settled in Long Beach, where she will remain until early in October, at the Ocean Front, the summer home of her daughter, Mrs. Joseph Stern.

A lengthy account of the Buffalo convention and the unveiling of the De l'Epee Statue in August has been received here. It is from a Washington, D. C., paper, and contains besides a picture of the De l'Epee statue, the familiar photo of the sculptor Mr. E. E. Hanan.

This reminds us that our Mr. Sam. Frankenheim, who returned to New York over a week ago, had to prolong his stay in Buffalo longer than he intended, on account of the De l'Epee statue. The Government at first wanted to levy a duty on it, but after some explanation, it was admitted free. The Abbe De l'Epee statue is a gift from subscriptions of the deaf of the United States and also from some in Canada.

Mr. Frankenheim, now that the statue has been delivered at its destination—Buffalo—and the pedestal has also been finished, he seems relieved of a great deal of responsibility, but he says that all expenses must be met for there are incidentals that will arise, and he would like very much to receive more contributions, and if those who have not yet contributed, would do so now, it will go a great way to meet all demands that may arise.

SILENT MOVIES A SUCCESS

The Silent Movies given on June 1st, by New York Council, K. L. D., for the benefit of the N. A. D. Abbe de l'Epee Memorial Statue Fund, turned out to be an outstanding success. Most everybody came and the crowd was a cosmopolitan one. Many came from outside town.

The films were excellent, as promised, and everybody was satisfied. Due to the fact that there are some tickets still to be turned in, no report can be made now. It will be made later.

ARTHUR BACHRACH FETED

Between forty and fifty ladies and gentlemen assembled at one of the dining rooms of Breton Hall Hotel, at 86th Street and Broadway, on the evening of Saturday, June 7th, to give a surprise to Arthur C. Bachrach, who had reached his sixtieth milestone, looking about half that age.

He was greatly surprised to see the gathering of friends, when ushered in by his comely better-half and his pretty daughter, Cecelia.

A fine supper was served and the "flow of soul" began, with Mr. E. Souweine as toastmaster. Complimentary talks were made by Messrs. Samuel Frankenheim, Marx Levy, Marcus L. Kenner, Miss Celia Travers, Louis A. Cohen, E. A. Hodgson and others.

As a memento of the occasion, Mr. Bachrach was presented with a very fine wrist watch.

B. H. S. D.

On June 8th, a large crowd gathered at the Hebrew Educational Society Building to attend a dance.

The most enjoyable game was the apron and necktie game. The judges were Sol Pachter, Sylvia Goldblatt and Fay Rudman.

The judges of the dancing contest were Morris Forman, Sadie Leder and Mollie Liebowitz.

The winners of the apron and necktie game were Isidore Sweet and Mrs. Wessler. Booby prizes were won by Hyman Feigan and Mrs. Kansriddle.

The winner of the Blindfold race was Anita Berger.

Miss Sylvia Goldblatt, of the Bonheur Girls, and William Schurman, won the dancing contest.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Plapinger tendered a novel affair in the shape of an "outdoors" party in honor of our Californian visitor, Mrs. Tillie Sonneborn.

Promptly at 4:15 last Saturday afternoon all embarked on the Iron Steamboat for Coney. Besides the generous hosts and guest of honor, the others included Mr. and Mrs. Osmond L. Loew, Mr. and Mrs. Marcus L. Kenner, Mr. and Mrs. Max Miller, Messrs. Samuel Frankenheim and Emanuel Souweine. For some unexplained reason, Jack Ebin was notoriously absent—lost, strayed or stolen?

Arriving at the famed Isle, their appetites whetted to the nth degree, the party repaired to Guffanti's where a good old Italian dinner awaited their pleasure. At its conclusion, and as a memento of the occasion, the diminutive but dynamic Anna P. presented the blushing Tillie S. with a pair of imported gloves.

FANWOOD ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

On Saturday evening, June 21st, the Fanwood Alumni Association will hold a whist and "500" at St. Ann's Church, 511 West 148th St. Eight prizes will be awarded to the winners at "500," and four prizes will be awarded to the winners at whist, also one best prize will be awarded to the lady or gentleman who first bids ten of any kind of trumps for "500."

Arthur Heine, a product of the Fanwood School, who since leaving school has been employed at type-setting, usually gets a vacation, and generally early before the hot summer days begin, enjoyed a week at Atlantic City the first week in June.

Sol E. Pachter was in Utica, Troy and Albany for a few days last week.

To commemorate Mr. and Mrs. Calman Davis' tenth wedding anniversary, a surprise party was given them on Saturday, June 7th. Besides the honored couple, there were in attendance, Messrs. and Mesdames, Cohen, Abramowitz, Friedman, Weinberg, Mosier, Druin, Berk, Bolitzer and Zwicker, Messrs. Weisman, Zietz and the Misses Catherine Neth and Hattie Schulman. As a token of friendship from all present, a check was given Mr. and Mrs. Davis.

Mr. Louis Hagan, the butter and egg man, has not been around much of late, but when ye scribe last saw him he looked grand. He said that while many were out of work, he and the company he was with were doing fine. The demand for butter and eggs was fair. Plenty of eggs were coming in and as for butter, they were supplying all demands. He is looking forward for some leisure soon.

On the 24th of June, in the billiard room of the Deaf-Mutes Union League, Mr. Charles Harmon, a champion cueist, will entertain the members with an exhibition at billiards and pool, and afterwards will execute some trick and fancy plays. It will be worthwhile for the members to see this exhibition.

William Moran, of New Orleans, La., recently went on an excursion to Bloxi, Miss. When a boy, he went to school at Fanwood, and he often says he is coming north. Perhaps he will go to Buffalo to see the unveiling of the Abbe De l'Epee statue.

The Deaf-Mutes' Union League baseball club, on June 8th, journeyed to Westchester and engaged in a game of baseball with the St. Joseph's Institute, and suffered defeat. The score was St. Joseph's 15; Deaf-Mutes' Union League, 5.

James J. Smitham, whose card reads "Metal Mine Owner," of Bellevue, Idaho, accompanied by Hyman Bernstein, "Mining Agent," were at the Journal Office last week. Both are deaf-mutes. They are trying to capitalize Smitham's holdings.

Richard Tweed, a graduate of Fanwood, after a lingering illness, passed away on Sunday, June 15th. The funeral services were held at Feeney's Chapel at Broadway and Sumpter Street, Brooklyn, on Wednesday, June 18th.

Mr. Richard Garth and Earl Calkins, of Albany, N. Y., Robert Paterson, of Watford, and Wm. H. Booth, of Montgomery, Ala., were in the city on Father's Day, June 15th, and were callers at the rooms of the Deaf-Mutes' Union League in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Renner enjoyed a trip to Hartford, Ct., recently and spent several days there. They visited the Hartford school for the deaf and other points of interest, including the house where Mr. Renner was born.

On account of the limited running space at Hoffman Park, the relay race for the Bronx' Frat picnic on July 12th, has been cancelled. All the other events will be carried out at the picnic.

Morris O. Kremen, who some time since was operated on, has since been discharged from the hospital and is now on the road to good health.

M. Kaminsky spent the week-end of June 14th, at the Grossinger's, Ferndale, N. Y.

Mrs. Benjamin Brandelstein and baby left for Woodridge, N. Y., on the 14th, to remain for the summer.

Binghamton's Doings

On Saturday afternoon, May 31st, about a dozen of Binghamton and Elmira motored to Casida, about fifty miles east of here, to a surprise party in honor of Miss Mary Denham's birthday. It was her first surprise party in her whole life. The party was held at her parents' home, where she lives. Those who came were Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. H. Decker, Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon E. Hoag and Miss Saddle Cohn, of Binghamton; Mrs. Margaret Kenney and Mr. Richard L. LeVan, of Elmira; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Anderson, of Endicott; Mr. and Mrs. George Dix, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cole, Jr., Mr. Francis Brown and Miss Hattie Wilson, of Walton. Miss Denham was greatly surprised. After supper was served, games was played, which every one enjoyed, especially Mary Denham was the most pleased. The next day being Sunday, all motored to Walton and Delhi and stayed all day with Mr. and Mrs. Dix.

Mr. Francis Brown, of Walton, being one of our Frat Division members, has a new Ford coach.

We were shocked to learn of the death of our loyal and true friend, Fred Lloyd. He has been associated with us nearly a year. He was taken to Syracuse on May 23d, and died Sunday.

Messrs. George Dix and Brown, of Walton, are planning to have a big picnic in Basset Park in Walton, N. Y., August 23d, Saturday, for the benefit of Division, No. 108. Watch for the details in this paper some time in July and August. They promise us that it will be the best time you have ever experienced. Any information you wish, to get in touch with this affair, write to Mahlon E. Hoag, 13 Sanford Street, Binghamton, N. Y.

OMAHA

The boys at the Nebraska School have been hard at work every afternoon, except Sundays, on an athletic field, at the extreme eastern end of the institute grounds. Fans can park their cars on Forty-second Street and witness sport contests therefrom.

Mr. Frank McCuster, who attended the Iowa School in the seventies, was around at the N. S. D. about June 8th. He worked for George Thomsen, of Cedar Bluffs, Neb., for a while and liked his employer.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Stark, of Los Angeles, Cal., have a baby boy, born May 31st. Mrs. Stark, who was Viola Cornell, and Mr. Stark were both graduates of the N. S. D. The newcomer has been named Harry W., Jr.

Omaha friends of the Zell family, of Columbus, Ohio, wish them "Bon Voyage" on their trip to Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hawkins and son, Elmer, arrived via auto, June 7th from Morganton, N. C., and after a brief visit at the N. S. D., they left Grafton, Neb., to visit Glenn's folks. Later they will go to Pittsburgh, Kan., for a visit with Mrs. Hawkins' folks. In August they will leave for North Carolina, where Mr. Hawkins has a position as manual training instructor at the school for the deaf. This is the first time in two years that they have come back home.

From a private letter we infer that Rudolph Chermok is walking on air, for he has acquired a fine 160-acre farm with a house, barn, chicken houses, stock, etc., and most recently a bride, whose cooking suits him to a T. He says that, although she is a hearing lady, she is one in a thousand. He has invented and has had patented an egg-carrier, from which he receives a royalty. His bride was Miss Veronica Turk, of Richardson, N. Dak. How they met and became interested in each other is a tale yet to be told.

"Silent" Nick Petersen of the N. S. D. has signed up with the Paxton-Mitchells of the National League baseball team for the summer. He is credited with the team's first victory of the season, with a score of 6 to 2. If all the deaf ladies would flock to the ball grounds and cheer him on, we reckon he might accomplish something on the Babe Ruth plan. Hop to it, girls!

A new power plant will be erected east of the new school building at the N. S. D. A $40,000 fund was provided by the Legislature. The new school building, although rather small for its purpose, is a handsome structure with many modern conveniences for both pupils and teachers.

Arthur G. Nelson is an independent interior decorator and window shade cleaner, having had experience with a local firm for several years. His business address is 4130 Hamilton Street.

Claude Jenkins expects to spend most of the summer with his brother at Wichita, Kan., and will probably attend the local sporting events, as well as picnics, of the deaf.

Alfred Marshall, a Junior at Gallaudet, will probably work at a summer resort at Monmouth, N. J., with several other college boys.

Mrs. Oscar M. Treuke entertained the members of the Linger-awhile club, together with their husbands, May 28th. Each couple had instructions to carry out several stunts, some of them very amusing. Delicious refreshments wound up the affair.

The Midwest chapter held its annual spring picnic at Elmwood Park, Saturday afternoon, May 31st. The feature of the day was an indoor baseball game, between two picked teams of "boys and girls," made up thus:—

Captain A. Netusel, Oscar Treuke, Mrs. Mullin, L. Holway, Mrs. Jelinek, Horace Buell, E. Henriksen.

Captain O. Study, J. Marty, Miss Dobson, George Revers, W. E. Dobson, H. G. Long, Mrs. Treuke, Miss Evans.

Mrs. Robert W. Mullin and Mrs. Oscar M. Treuke were the opposing pitchers, we might say "throwers," giving numerous easy hits, so next day they went around with sore arms. High-heeled shoes caused several turned ankles and slackened speed, so the lively ladies threw off their shoes. George Revers, the guest of a member, was the star of the afternoon with two home runs and a three-base hit. Once he socked the ball way past Anton Neutisil, who found his extra weight a handicap in the game. Owen Study and John Marty were runners-up, but both were struck out when they swung the bat too hard. Mr. Study nearly blew off catcher Leo Holway's head and Mr. Marty tried to break a giant tree. Mr. Treuke tried to swat the ball into a street car a mile away, and when Umpire Eugene McConnell said "out," he was so dazed that he had to be led to a seat among several lady fans. Wesley R. Dobson was a dandy player and hit every time at bat. He outdid his younger "brethren" and his daughter, Mary, could have entered a base-runners' marathon. The score was 14 to 7, in favor of Captain Study's team. The picnic "eats" were spread on the tables and ice-cream and coffee were served by the committee. Election of officers followed and resulted thus: President, Miss Mary Dobson; Vice-President, Oscar M. Treuke; Secretary-Treasurer, John J. Marty. Everyone departed late at the end of a pleasant afternoon.

Abe Rosenblatt took an excursion to St. Louis, Mo., over Decoration Day, and his sister called at the Central Deaf Institute to investigate, expecting to send their younger brother there. Falling to get a satisfactory tuition rate, they gave it up.

The N. S. D. graduation exercises took place in the school auditorium, Thursday evening, June 12th. The first grade class demonstration by Mrs. Mary E. Hill's pupils drew rounds of applause. These tiny youngsters entered school knowing very little, but learned to speak many words an older child would use. The program as a whole was something out of the ordinary, especially the orchestration exercises. The sad part of it was that half of the program was not interpreted to the deaf visitors. The four graduates, Ivan L. Hwdsen, Cornelius H. Kelly, Charles T. Pettit and William K. Sinclair, were given quite an ovation. Presentation of awards to athletic teams by Coach Nick Peterson was a feature. The Industrial School exhibit included examples of skill and surpassed that of former years.

Dr. and Mrs. J. Schuyler Long have gone to Berkeley, Cal., to spend the summer with their daughter and son-in-law, Superintendent and Mrs. Elwood Stevenson. They will also visit Dr. Long's sister at Long Beach. He is recovering nicely from his recent operation. John Flood bought a second-hand Ford sedan to take his family riding. Joe Kollar has a Studebaker sedan, purchased second-hand from the president of a local band. The girls are watching Joe. Give us a ride, boy!

Mr. and Mrs. Albert B. Hemstreet, (nee Merrill), have announced the birth of a boy on May 25th, 1930, at Rochester, N. Y. We offer them most hearty congratulations.

On Sunday, 15th of June, a day of most ideal weather, a number of deaf-mutes from Eastern New Jersey came to Philadelphia ostensibly to visit All Souls' Church for the Deaf, which most of them had not seen before. Those in the party were Mrs. E. H. Rigg, of Elizabeth; Mr. and Mrs. E. Schuster, of Glen Ridge; Mr. and Mrs. D. Staats, of West Orange; Mrs. J. Black, of Newark; Miss C. Christoffers, of Newark; Miss Kate Ehrlich, of New York City, and Mrs. M. L. Glynn, of Jersey City. The last two came by "bus." Several more were expected to come, but they must have changed their mind. All returned home by train in the evening.

The Clerc Literary Association held a quarterly business meeting last Thursday evening, 12th inst.

Rev. Mr. Smaltz made another fishing trip recently with a party of eight hearing men. They reached the Atlantic Coast and would have enjoyed it more but for a heavy fog, which made them feel lost. S. O. S. calls were made continuously until help finally came. Mr. Smaltz, who seemed the least concerned by reason of his affliction, brought home a string of nineteen croakers which he caught.

Mr. William H. Eakins, of Reading, Pa., is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Troup, in this city.

We shall be thankful to any one who sends us news items for this column during the summer months.

FANWOOD

The one hundred and twelfth graduation exercises at Fanwood have passed into history, and after the hustle and bustle of last week, there is a sense of quietness around the school. With most of the pupils absent, the playgrounds seem deserted. However, there is plenty of activity inside the buildings, for even at this early date preparations are being made for the fall term.

One of the memorable events of Commencement week took place on Thursday evening, June 12th, when a bronze statuette of the late Professor William G. Jones was unveiled in the chapel with very impressive ceremonies and before an assemblage of officers, teachers and pupils.

Professor Jones, who was educated at Fanwood and at Gallaudet College, and taught here for fifty years, was greatly beloved by all. He posed for the statuette after his retirement from the Institution in 1926, and his family has presented it to the Institution as a memorial to him. It will later occupy a niche in our chapel. It is full length and is thirty-one inches high.

The statuette is the work of Mr. Louis Cassinelli, a former pupil of this Institution. Miss M. LeFrere Carroll, our Art Director for ten years, has always been very much interested in the development of this young artist, and she introduced him to Mahon Young, the noted sculptor, as a prospective pupil. Mr. Cassinelli was very much surprised when Mr. Young handed him a large piece of clay and told him to go to work. Formerly Mr. Cassinelli had only worked with small quantities of clay. It is reported on authority that he took to modeling naturally and that from his first attempt it appeared as though he had been working in clay all his life. The consensus of opinion is that the statuette is a remarkable likeness of Professor Jones. Mr. Cassinelli loved him and putting his whole heart and soul into the work, produced a wonderful result.

Vacations being in order at present, it may be of interest to note where the various members of the personnel have gone or are going to be.

Principal Gardner left the city on Thursday with Dr. Harris Taylor, principal of the Lexington Avenue school, for a two-weeks' vacation in the Maine woods. They will go to Maine by auto, and find their way in the woods to the lands of a large lumber company, where a permit must be secured to cross their property for some thirty miles in extent. Then the car will be stored in a shed, and guides will lead them on foot for a mile or so, to a clearing by one of the numerous lakes in that section. After their arrival, one can visualize the two transformed into woodsmen, casting their lines into the water and bringing home nice strings of bass and trout. In fact, we can almost smell the savory odor as the guides bake the fish over the campfire.

Misses Scofield and Teegarden sailed for Europe from Canada on Friday, June 13th. On the same day, Miss Shirley also took a boat for Europe from New York City.

Mrs. Voorhees will also go abroad, sailing from New York, Friday the 27th, on the Majestic. She will visit France, Italy, Germany, Switzerland, Holland and England. At Oberammergau, she will witness the Passion Play. The Olympic will bring her back to America on August 17th.

Miss Berry has gone to Buffalo, N. Y., for a month and will later be at Big Moose, N. Y.

Miss Dean is at Glens Falls, N. Y., while Miss Dolph is located at Schenectady.

Miss Judge is now enjoying things at her bungalow in the Catskills at West Saugerties.

Morganton, N. C., is the stopping place of Miss Leslie.

Miss Otis will be with the old home folks in Minnesota after next month.

Two of our pupils Felix Kowalewski and George Herbst, are going to Cuba, leaving New York City on June 28th. They will also stop at Jamaica, Haiti and other parts of the West Indies. The trip will last twenty-three days. They expect to be back in New York by July 18th.

Cadets Oscar Benison, Albert Capocci, Walter Shafran, Louis Johnson and Albert Boyajian, will sling type in the JOURNAL office during the summer, and incidentally advance themselves in the art of printing. The last two are now learning to operate the linotype.

Los Angeles, Cal.

One of the recent big affairs was the card party on June 1st to raise Los Angeles' quota for the De l'Epee Statue Fund. It was sponsored by all the clubs and the Frat Division and was held in the Assembly Hall of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, and was attended by over 150 of the representative deaf. Thirty tables played "500" and six played bunco. At the former first prizes were won by Mrs. Russell Handley and Joe Beisang, and second prizes by Mrs. Joe Beisang and West Wilson. Bunco prizes were won by Mrs. Dwyson and Miss Rasey. David Brown, who is a graduate of the Buffalo, N. Y., school, was chairman, assisted by several sub-committees. Refreshments were served in cafeteria style, consisting of various kinds of sandwiches, relishes, cakes and coffee. A beautiful angel cake, made by Mrs. Mary Bingham, was auctioned off and brought $4. We were informed that over $100 was cleared by the affair.

Mrs. Estella Thompson and daughter, Mrs. Raymond Gesner, entertained at bridge recently for Mrs. Ingomar Goldsmith of New York City, who with her family spent the winter in Los Angeles. Mrs. Goldsmith is an expert lip-reader, educated at the Lexington Avenue School, New York City, and this party was to introduce her to some of the local ladies. First prize was won by Mrs. Goldsmith, second by Mrs. Rothert, and third by Miss Annabelle Kent.

On May 16th, Mr. and Mrs. James K. Watson entertained at a picnic at Arroyo Seco Park, which is near their home. They had a picnic dinner, making their coffee on one of the fireplaces in the park. Later they visited the ancient chapel, which remains there as a relic of early Spanish days. Hardly any of their guests had seen the park or church, which is sometimes rented to those wanting a novel setting for a party. Those enjoying hospitality of the Watsons were: Misses Chenoweth, Peek, Kent, and Angle, Dr. Anna Chapin, Mesdames Wadwell, Howard, Ballis, Boss and McDonald. Mrs. Watson left on June 10th to spend the summer with her married children in Illinois.

Mrs. H. Pierce Kane, of New York City, has been a guest the past two months at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. McMann, in Hollywood. The McManns took her in their car to San Francisco, San Diego, Long Beach, and other resorts of the California Riviera. While at San Francisco, they had the pleasure of a visit to the Tilleys, at Tiburon, and spent an evening with Murray Campbell and wife. Mr. Campbell is much better, and says his New York friends still have a strong hold on his heart. Mrs. Kane visited three days with Miss Annabelle Kent in Los Angeles, who gave a card party for her, to which twenty friends were invited. Parties were also given for her by the McManns, Briscoes, and Terrys. While up North, they visited the big trees at Santa Cruz, and she was impressed by those marvels of nature, as she had no idea there were trees with such enormous trunks. The McManns, Mrs. Kane, Mr. and Mrs. Lipsett, and Mr. and Mrs. D. Brown left on June 7th for a trip to San Diego, and expected to call on Mr. and Mrs. Gledhill there. Mrs. Kane says she has been having the time of her life and that it is hard to tear herself away from California.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stark are the happy parents of a son, born on May 31st. He has been named Harry, Jr.

There was a shower for Mrs. Grace Smith and Harry Whalen the evening of May 27th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Bente. They received a large number of useful and lovely gifts. They will be married on June 16th, at 8:30 A.M., at St. Vincent's Catholic Church.

Miss Ethel Morton and Simon Himmelschien were married in Berkeley on June 2d, then went to Portland, Ore., to visit the bride's folks. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boss, will give a reception for them on June 17th, in Los Angeles.

Felix Weller, brother-in-law of Mrs. Jennie Weller, dropped dead while hiking near Lake Arrowhead. The remains were cremated at Riverside and sent to Chicago. Mrs. Jennie Hollen, daughter of Mrs. Weller, will leave on an auto trip to Illinois, to be gone about six weeks. Meanwhile Grandma Weller will have charge of her two grandchildren.

Los Angeles Division No. 27, N.F.S.D., is going to celebrate July Fourth by a big picnic at Brookside Park, Pasadena. There will be a game of baseball at 9 A.M. and games at 10:30 A.M. and basket dinner at noon. It promises to be a big affair, as there is no other picnic for the deaf here on that date.

BUFFALO

Anyone interested in the 1930 N. A. D. convention, and desiring information and free literature should write to Charles N. Snyder, Secretary-Publicity, 58 Harrison Ave., Lockport, N. Y.

The success of any convention of whatever nature is half way assured in the choice of the hotel. In selecting the Statler for this distinction—our headquarters, the executive committee made a wise selection. Situated at Niagara Square, in the very heart of Buffalo, across from where Buffalo's new $7,000,000 city Hall is rearing its way skyward for 27 stories, and within striking distances of the 300 feet, Rand and Liberty Bank Buildings, the sophisticated visitor from New York and Chicago will feel at home.

The Statler is Buffalo's leading hostelry, of imposing appearance withal exuding a welcoming and "homey" influence on first sight. It has 1,100 rooms with baths in all and, ah me, with that useless (to us) appendage, Radio, in every room. Rates are $3.50 per day. Group rates for five in a room, with separate beds are $2.50 per day each person, so it is possible for persons of moderate means to enjoy the thrill of stopping at the Statler and imagine themselves to be millionaires for a whole week.

Statler management owns the Hotel Buffalo, where the rates are considerably lower, $2.00 per day. Group rates at same price.

Buffalo has other magnificent hotels that will cater to visitors:—Ford, Delaware and Cary, $1.50 up. European plan.

Graystone, Johnson Park, near Delaware Ave. $2.00 up. European plan.

Lafayette, Washington and Clinton. $2.50 up. European plan.

Brooklyn, Seneca and Wells St. $1.00 up. European plan.

Lenox, North, West of Delaware. $2.00 up. European plan.

Touraine, Delaware and Johnson Park. $2.00 up. European plan.

Stratford Arms, 25 W. Utica St. $1.50 up. European plan.

Men's Hotel, Pearl and Genesee. $1.00 up. European plan.

Now is the time to put in reservations for rooms. The Fraternal Order of Orioles will hold their convention during same week the N. A. D. does, but due to a fortunate stroke of luck, none of their outing dates conflict with ours and we are fortunate to be assured of a monopoly of our amusement dates. But the city will be crowded and hotel rooms will be at a premium and hard to get, unless reserved in advance. A word to the wise is sufficient.

One of the largest crowds attended the card party at St. Mary's School, given under the auspices of the local N. A. D. committee, to raise funds to be used at a big joint picnic this summer. Mr. Joseph Spahn was in charge of this affair and is being congratulated on all sides on his signal success. There was an orchestra on hand that furnished music for dancing. Worthwhile prizes were awarded the winners of the various card games. It was near midnight when it broke up. And they say that Mr. Spahn is due for higher honors. Certainly, it is not often that the unobtrusive and retiring person shows promise of managerial ability till he is put to the test and then comes through with flying colors.

Friday, August 8th, during convention week, will be devoted to the lake trip to Crystal Beach, "The Coney Island of the North," and indications show that many will take the trip and not without good reason. This resort is a close rival to its larger namesake near the metropolis, the concessions being varied and numerous, besides having an unexcelled bathing beach. Just now Chairman Coughlin is casting about to appoint the logical man to head the bathing beauty event. If plans materialize, it is proposed to make this event a most outstanding one and have all the prettiest deaf girls represented to make selection of Miss N. A. D., and cop the first prize. In this we serve notice on our hearing brothers that we are not one whit behind them in being connoisseurs of art.

Chairman Allan Dunham, of Arcade, announces that a snag has been struck in the proposed Roycroft trip, tentatively set for Saturday morning, August 9, it having been learned that Fra Hubbard's place is closed on Saturdays. As a consequence another date is being sought, which will be announced in due time. Chairman Dunham is advising all who take this trip to buy only one-way tickets, as the return trip will be made by another route, taking in Father Nelson R. Baker's famed church and school at Lackawanna, which is one of the largest and most beautiful in the country and will be a source of much interest to many. In this connection Chairman Dunham will have an interesting announcement to make in the near future. Those contemplating making the Roycroft trip will do well to write Mr. Dunham at Arcade, N. Y., for particulars and literature pertaining to the historical aspects of this interesting side trip.

Decoration Day, May 30th, all roads lead to St. Mary's School for the field day, under auspices of De l'Epee committee, to raise funds for the statue fund. An elaborate program of sports has been prepared and it is up to Weatherman James Spencer, father of our charming Jean Spencer, to promise fair weather to make it an unqualified success. And an added feature that will lend impetus to the occasion will be the presence of Samuel Frankenheim, of New York, chairman of the De l'Epee committee, who undoubtedly will have something important to say concerning various phases pertaining to statue matters.

All aboard for Buffalo, August 4 to 9, 1930.

For the first time in its fifty years, the N. A. D. will hold a convention without a transportation committee.

This is the Motor Age. So many deaf plan to use their own cars, or the cars of friends, that President A. L. Roberts wisely opined it a waste of time to assign a flock of far-flung "agents" to handle matters. Especially as most of these committeemen, or agents, generally pass the buck right back to the president—making him do all the work while they get all the glory.

Accordingly President Roberts has designated two men only with "whoop'er up" roles at the two Metropoli.

The energetic vice-president Marcus Kenner, handling the New York end, has selected the LEHIGH VALLEY as official route from the East. The "Kenner Kyclone" will leave New York City at 8:50, the morning of Sunday, August 3d.

President Roberts has again delegated me to handle the Western end—as was the case at the Washington 1923 convention. He has also passed over the voluminous communications from various roads clamoring for the business, with implied understanding to use my best judgment (and pay postage out of my own pocket—same as he himself often has in the past. For you understand this NAD racket is purely a labor of love with us deaf.)

Funny about those railroad people. Gone is the lofty disdain with which they once regarded our humble gatherings. Almost pathetic are they in their pleading for crumbs. Agents have pestered me night and day. For bus lines and private cars have cut into their receipts amazingly.

Since it seems there must be an "official route" (whatever good that does) I have picked out the roads showing the most persistence and enthusiasm, and hereby appoint as "official routes" the GREAT NORTHERN—from points west of St. Paul, and SEABOARD AIRLINE RAILWAY—for the South Atlantic.

Both roads have been furnished with addresses, publication-data and suggestions, thereby unloading on their overheard the postage and printing bills the Nad (or more likely myself) would have to defray.

The MICHIGAN CENTRAL is "official road" from Chicago to Detroit (or Buffalo, if preferred) for those desiring to take a train. Trains leave Chicago at 9 A.M., and 1 P.M., Chicago time. Fare to Detroit is $9.81 each way; or round-trip summer tourist tickets to Niagara Falls are $30.10.

However the real crowd—some 50 to 75 silents—will leave Chicago early Saturday morning, August 2d, over what ever bus line I can secure the lowest rates from. Bus travel is cooler, more scenic, almost as fast, and half the cost of railway transportation.

"Two conventions for the cut-rate cost of one," is the motto of the Detroiters who are arranging a splendid evening of entertainment for those attending by bus, train, or private cars. Attendees at Detroit's 1920 Nad Convention recall the wonderful time arranged by trusty Tom Kennedy and his Dynamic Deaf Delighters. The younger element now gets its turn, and the clubrooms of the Detroit Association of the Deaf, at 8 E. Jefferson Street, will be open to our crowd free of charge. Arthur "Cinch" Hinch, the champion frat-getter, in personal charge of all Detroit details, has arranged for about one hundred conventioners to bunk at the Hotel Norton, a block away, for around $1 or $1.50 the night.

Note—Due to the limitations of the D. A. D. clubrooms, only members of the D. A. D. and bona-fide conventioners can be accommodated.

Sunday will be devoted to an auto tour of Detroit and Canada. At 5 that afternoon we embark on the "official road"—THE DETROIT AND CLEVELAND NAVIGATION Co. steamer—550-ft. long, 100-ft. beam, costing $3,500,000—from the foot of their street, due to reach Buffalo at 8, Monday morning.

Out of thirty national conventions, this is the first time any considerable bunch voyage by water—offering pleasant relief from auto travel over hot, dusty highways; and from rail travel in stuffy, grimy coaches.

Fare—$5 each way—or $4.50 where bought in a bunch of 25 or more tickets. Meals—Dinner $1.50; Breakfast 75 cents; also lunch counters. Berths—Inside staterooms $4; Staterooms with private toilet $5. Each stateroom bunks two or three persons, making the cost $1.20 to $1.70 per person; and has running water.

Requests for some of the two hundred steamer berths reserved (most being on the "D" deck—the top deck) should be made to Arthur M. Hinch, 1628 Benitave Street, Detroit, Mich. (At the same time ask him to reserve you a room at the Hotel Norton, Saturday night.) Specify how much you are willing to pay for your steamer berth, and if you have picked out your room-mates.

Of course, there will be kicks over these arrangements, but they have been made with a view for the majority. The Detroit stop-over affords a welcome break in the monotony of the journey to those traveling by their own cars. They can then resume the trip late Sunday evening, going via Canada; or they can ship their cars by the steamers, rates ranging from $12 for a 13-ft. car, up. The Kenner-Hinch-Meagher Tours schedules therefore stand as stated.

To sum up: Round-trip, Chicago to Buffalo, by train $30.10. Round trip by boat and bus, about $17 or $18. Meals and berth extra in both cases. Rooms at Hotel Statler will probably average $3 per night; but many will engage rooming houses four to six blocks away, at about $5 per week. In either event write Secretary Charles Snyder, 58 Harrison Avenue, Lockport, N. Y., at once. The sooner you are provided for, the better your accommodations. Expenses for the entire week need not be over $50, if one takes a room house and lives frugally. So, even considering the industrial depression which has hit our people so severely, I look for at least 2,000 in attendance when President Roberts unveils the $10,000 De l'Epee statue and the sound-films record the event for broadcasting to all corners of the globe.

Deaf-Mute Printers

In a recently published article it was stated that we have several deaf-mutes on the unemployed list. It is true that we have a few, but that does not detract any of the efficiency from the list of those awaiting a call. Those men can all furnish the best of references as to their capabilities in the art of printing. Most of them are very adept at lip-reading and if the foreman will not talk out of the corner of his mouth he will find that his instructions will be readily understood and followed implicitly. Don't make the mistake of turning one of these men down if you get a chance to employ one. Of course, no one is going to list that you hire a deaf-mute if you think he won't suit you. Does it mean anything to the union that all of these men, some of whom have been unemployed for three and four months, with no out-of-work benefit, their families suffering privations and themselves subjected to all kinds of temptations, are still loyal union men? Think it over. —Chicago Correspondence in May Typographical Journal.

A Chicago proofreader, who has recently secured work in New York, was so much impressed by the interpreting of the proceedings for the benefit of the deaf members in the New York Typographical Union that he wrote to the officers of the Chicago Union urging them to provide the same service for the deaf members of the Chicago Union, explaining to the officials what he had seen in the New York Union. The Chicago officials were sympathetically disposed and acceded to the proposition, arranged for his compensation, and are now endeavoring to locate a proper interpreter.
